True Recruiters

Every company advertises their job openings. Whether they use the Internet, newspaper, or other media, they all target the same group – people who are looking for work. But these active job seekers only represent about 10-15% of the talent pool.

So how do you reach the other 85 – 90%? At WillStaff, we know how.

Using our highly structured recruiting methods, we can find passive talent – people who are not actively looking for a new job. These are typically the best employees. And we have the ability to put your job right in front of them.

By being true recruiters, WillStaff gives you access to a better selection of candidates.

WillStaff can help you find the best local talent in these fields:

- Skilled Industrial Professionals
- Office Professionals
- Sales and Marketing
- Accounting & Finance
- Technical
- Medical Office

And we can execute national searches in these industries:

- Construction
- Engineering
- Banking
- Healthcare
- Accounting & Finance
- Human Resources
- Diversity Recruiting

The WillStaff Difference

Less Hassle.

Using WillStaff's direct hire services, you can essentially eliminate the time spent screening resumes and reviewing applications. In addition, you will drastically reduce the cost associated with advertising, as well as the time interviewing a multitude of candidates.

Better Talent.

Our direct recruiting methods provide you with access to exceptional candidates who are successfully employed and cannot be found through traditional sources.

To ensure we only refer the best candidates, each person we screen must complete an extensive discovery process that includes telephone and in-person interviews, skills testing, background checks, and behavioral assessments.

Industry Specialists.

At WillStaff, we have recruiters who are specialists in their respective disciplines. They know where to locate “hard-to-find talent.” Just as importantly, they know the right questions to ask to ensure a great match.
